

WILLS AND ESTATE PLANNING

You have probably already taken steps to make provision for the financial care of your loved ones. This proves that you have vision and that you are dealing with the planning of your estate in a responsible manner.

We at Accatax Services (Pty) Ltd realise the importance of proper estate planning and the execution of our client's last wishes.

Do you have total peace of mind about your estate?
Ask yourself the following questions:

*Have I had a comprehensive estate planning done in the past year?
Does it still suit my circumstances?
Have I done the necessary to limit estate duty to the minimum,
or completely avoid it?
Do I have enough cash to provide for estate duties?
Will my estate be finalised without any complications?
Will my dependants be financially secure after my death?*

IF YOU ANSWERED "NO" OR "I DON'T KNOW" to any of these questions, you need to evaluate your estate planning and revise your will!

Proper estate planning and an executable will, containing your last wishes, is just as important as the assets that you have built up over the years. In fact, it is one of the most important legal documents that you will ever sign during your lifetime.

So, think about it while you are still holding this letter - make sure that your loved ones are in good hands when you are no longer there to care for them.
