Manager Comment

The global reopening continued in August, with a number of developed markets further lifting restrictions. For example, the UK finally lifted its last domestic COVID-19 restrictions. Economic data remained strong, although the developed world appears to be at or just past the peak rate of growth. Despite ongoing concerns of the Delta variant and monetary policy tightening, most nations ended the month on a positive note, excluding South Africa.

Overall global equity markets had a bumper month in August, as developed equity markets delivered yet another positive return for the seventh consecutive month. The MSCI World Index closed 2.35% month-on-month (m/m) in USD and 1.20% in ZAR. US equities led from the front once again, with the S&P 500 (US$) up 3.04% month-on-month and 21.57% year to date. Furthermore, European equities also closed the month on a positive note, with the Euro Stoxx 50 (€) up 2.63%.

Emerging equity markets managed to bounce back from last month's results, recording a positive return of 2.42% m/m in USD and 1.27% in ZAR, slightly edging developed equity markets for the month. Indian equities produced a stellar performance in August, buoyed by strong retail investor demand following economic data showing the Indian economy was significantly less impacted by the severity of the most recent COVID-19 wave than expected. The former, as well as a strong performance from Russian equities, contributed to emerging equity markets' recovery. Meanwhile, the rollout of regulations in China continued to weigh on Chinese stocks, with uncertainty around the impact of the shifting Chinese regulatory landscape abounding.

The South African equity market ended the month in the negative for August, as the FTSE/JSE All Share Index closed at -1.74%, with the best performers of the month coming in the form of local banking companies.

All major indices were in negative territory for August, with Financials leading the pack at -0.97% m/m, while resources and industrials lagged somewhat, closing at -4.88% and -5.17% m/m. Industrials were once again negatively affected by Naspers and Prosus' performance. SA listed property closed the month 7.46% up, with cash (STeFI) delivering a moderate return of 0.32% m/m. South African value managers (2.52% m/m) outperformed growth managers (-6.16% m/m), while globally, the opposite occurred.

Our currency experienced its lowest level in five months against the USD during the month of August, but managed to close the month 1.13% up, in another rollercoaster month. Furthermore, the ZAR gained as much as 2.17%, 1.59% and 0.10% against the sterling, euro and Japanese yen respectively.
